Prosperity Partnership

Develops and implements the Regional Economic Strategy.

Prioritizes strategic economic clusters and actions.

Three big foundation initiatives: education, taxes and transportation.

A growing coalition of over 200 organizations and communications links to over 4,000 people to advocate for the region's shared economic priorities.

Governance

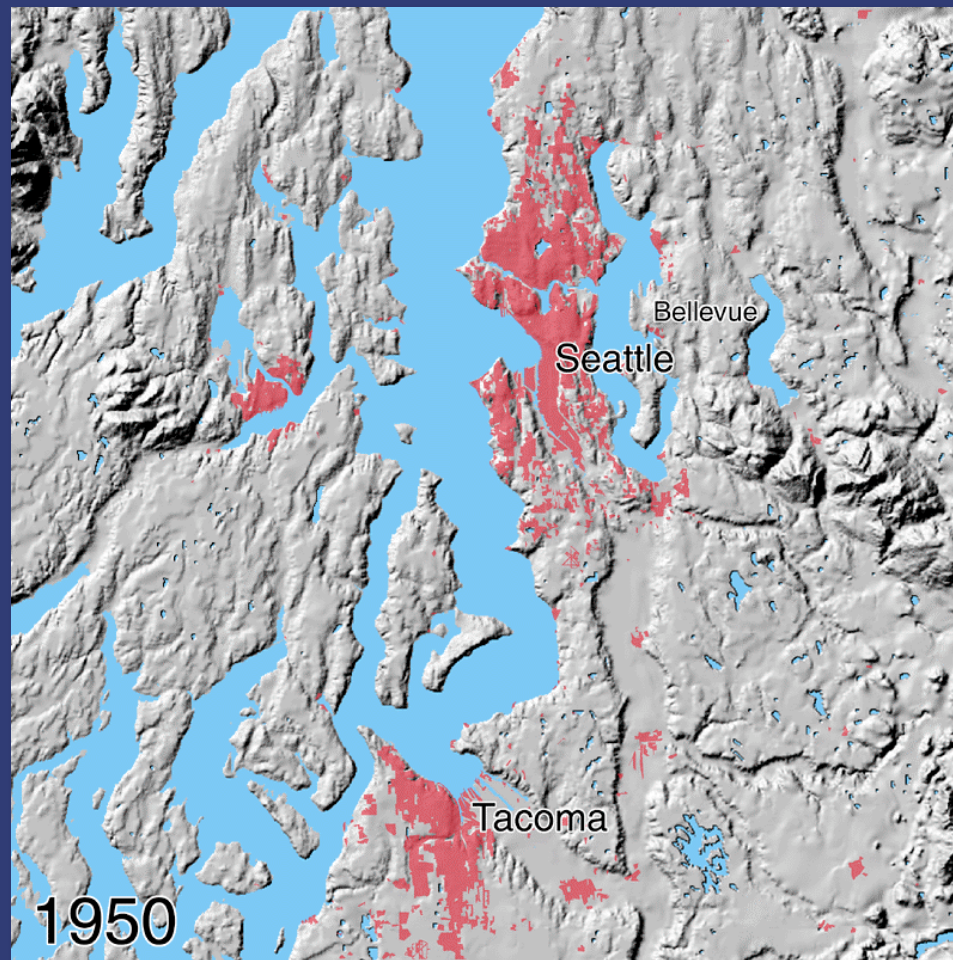

Changes in regional transportation governance should not delay progress in delivering regional transportation improvements.

The PSRC supports continuing to look for ways to improve prioritizing transportation improvements.

Land use planning should precede transportation planning efforts.

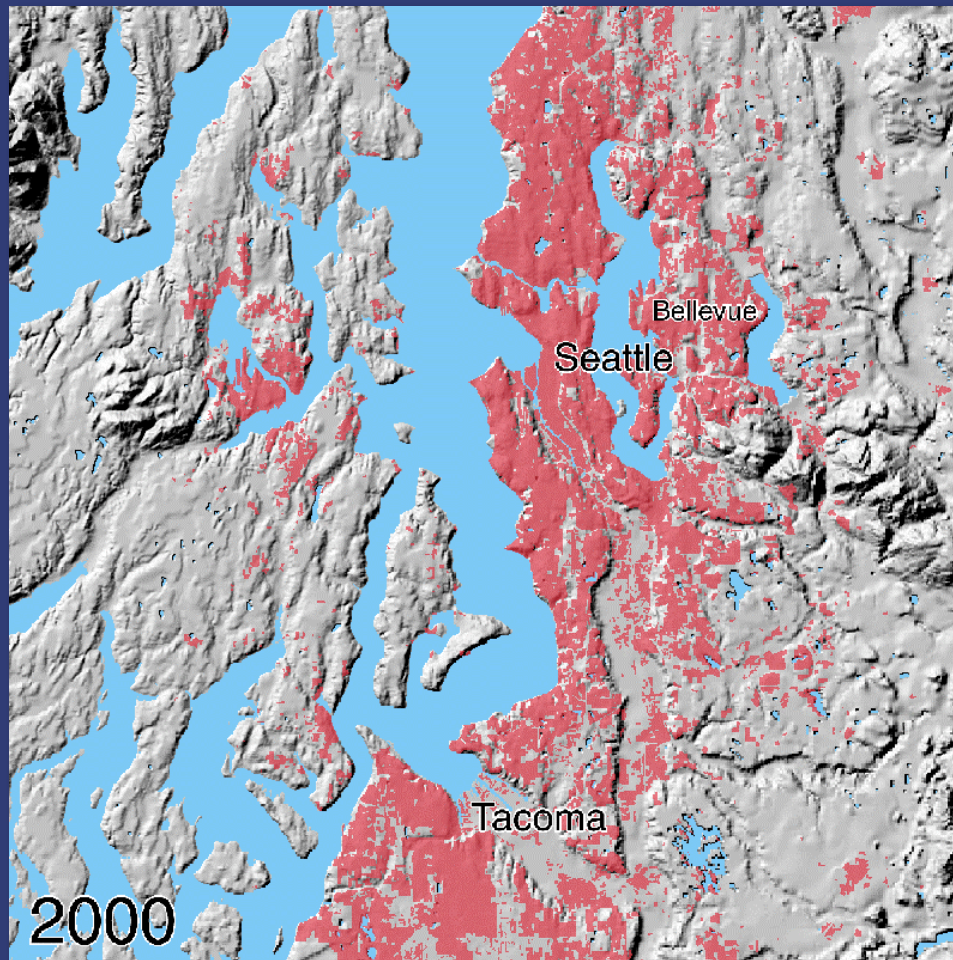

The PSRC emphasizes the importance of meeting the federal requirements regarding maintaining a properly designated Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) in order to protect the flow of federal transportation funds to the region.
